ONE OF TWO GIRLS LOST SINCE SUNDAY ON PRAIRIES FOUND

Ten-Year-Old Child Found Safe by Band of Indians Twenty Miles From Home—Hundreds Taking Part in Search for Little Companion

PELLY, Sask., May 26 (P).—Ten-year-old Ludvina Machishyn, one of two girls lost from their farm homes since Sunday, when they set out to look for straying cattle, was found alive by a band of Indians today twenty miles northwest of where they were last seen. Search for Hazel Scraba, eleven, continued.

In good physical condition, although suffering from hunger and exhaustion, Ludvina said she and Hazel separated Monday afternoon, when the Scraba child was unable to keep pace with the younger of the two. Ludvina said the other girl was in good health when they parted.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who have directed the search by hundreds of residents of this Saskatchewan farm district, centred their efforts tonight on locating the spot where the girls parted Monday in hopes of picking up Hazel's trail.

The girls were last seen about a mile from Hazel's farm home Sunday noon as they walked into the Continued on Page 3, Column 7

TWO MINES STRIKEBOUND

Walkouts at Cariboo Workings Called by Affiliates of C.I.O.

VANCOUVER, May 26 (P).—Gold mining operations in the rich Cariboo district today were halted by strikes in two hardrock mines, called by affiliates of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Word reached Vancouver that 120 men had walked out from the Island Mountain Gold Mines, Ltd., and 240 had gone on strike at the Cariboo Gold Quartz Mining Company, demanding recognition as members of the International Mine, Mill and Smeltermen's Union.

NO STRIKE BREAKING
F. W. Guernsey, president of Island Mountain, said he had no intention of attempting to open the mine at Barkerville with strikebreakers. "We are prepared to close the mine indefinitely," he said.

Dr. W. B. Burnett, president of Cariboo Gold Quartz, left for his company's property at Wells, intent upon "talking to the men themselves and seeing out what this thing is all about." Burnett said wages at the mine were increased voluntarily a month ago and a bonus was distributed at Christmas. He said he would "not tolerate" outside organizers forcing employees to strike.

At neither mine was there any disorder. Cariboo Gold Quartz officials announced the company is protected by strike insurance and there will be no loss suffered in the strike at their property.

Another C.I.O. affiliate, the United Mine Workers of America, served notice on Vancouver Island coal operators that they would start a campaign for union recognition. Locals at Nanaimo and nearby Cumberland called a meeting for Sunday, when they will draft demands to be placed before their employers, the Western Fuel Corporation and the Canadian Collieries (Dummuir) Ltd.

SEEK CONTROL OF NERVION VALLEY
HERNDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 26 (P).—Spanish insurgent General Emilio Mola today launched a drive for control of the Nervion River Valley, leading to Bilbao, while one of his columns advanced to Lemona, eight miles southeast of the Basque capital.

The new push was concentrated against the town of Arduina, twenty-two miles northwest of Bilbao and approximately eighteen miles southwest of Bilbao.

Control of the valley would give the invaders a way through the hills to Bilbao, the Basque capital.

Two Men Acquitted of Being in Possession of Furs Stolen From Trading Post

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., May 26 (P).—Ralph Sheffield and Henry Courvoisier, Fort Nelson trappers charged with being in possession of furs stolen from the Hudson's Bay post at Fort St. John, B.C., on June 13, 1934, were acquitted by an assize court jury today after two hours' deliberation.

Although several Indians testified the furs exhibited as evidence included some shot or trapped by them and sold to the Hudson's Bay Company at St. John prior to the 1934 robbery, a white witness with thirty years' experience in furs declared he could not tell the age of a fur after one year.

General Principles Alone Included in Resolutions Reached at Conference

No Attempt Made to Lay Down Common Binding Policies

ECONOMIC QUESTIONS COMING UP TODAY

LONDON, May 26 (P).—The Imperial Conference resolutions on Empire defence and foreign policy are not expected to advance beyond a statement of general principles.

Any attempt to lay down common policies binding all members of the British Commonwealth of Nations, it was again emphasized tonight, would be contrary to the whole basis of the conference in session here with all the Empire Premiers and a large number of Cabinet Ministers and technical advisers in attendance.

The Canadian delegation has not accepted and is not accepting any commitments. None, it is learned, has been asked.

THE GENERAL ATTITUDE
In the cloud of secrecy surrounding the conference the exact positions taken by different delegations are difficult to determine. But the general attitude of Canada in the conference is understood to be:

British M.P. Will Enjoy Higher Pay

LONDON, May 26 (P).—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, in one of his final acts as head of the Government, tomorrow will announce in the House of Commons an increase in pay for his members. This was decided by the Cabinet today, it was learned.

The members, who now receive $400 a year, will receive an increase of $100 or $200.

Today's decision follows the recent voting of salary increases for Cabinet ministers.

Honorable Settlement Announced by General Secretary of Transport Workers' Union—Eight-Hour Day Continuing Pending Negotiations

LONDON, May 26 (P).—London's 5,000 familiar red buses will roll again on the streets on Friday, after an absence of four weeks less one day while the 25,500 conductors and drivers struck for shorter hours and better working conditions.

A settlement of the strike was announced by the Labor Ministry tonight. While few details were issued, it was announced that the men returning to work on Friday would continue to work eight hours a day, rather than the seven-and-a-half-hour trick they had demanded, pending completion of negotiations.

Ernest Bevin, general secretary of the Transport and General Workers' Union, said it was "an honorable settlement" and that a foundation had been laid "for building up a new and proper structure of agreement and schedule-making for the bus industry."

News of the settlement was received with satisfaction by the great majority of Londoners, who have been walking the pavements, riding bicycles or jamming into overcrowded subways and tramways to reach their jobs.

DIONNE BABIES GREET MOTHER

Visitors See Demonstration of Quintuplets Affection For Their Parents

CALLANDER, Ont., May 26 (P).—So many thousands are eager to see the Dionne quintuplets, as they near their third birthday on Friday that Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe decided tonight to lengthen the periods they appear each day before the public.

The rush of visitors over the holiday week-end convinced him the 500,000 who saw the famous youngsters last year will be increased to 750,000 in 1937.

The babies now play before the public for two half-hour periods each day, and today Mrs. Oliva Dionne, their twenty-seven-year-old mother, dropped in to receive an enthusiastic reception from her daughters. They ran to her arms and kissed her, and then each hugged Ernest and Daniel, two of their brothers, and Pauline, their sister who is only eleven months older than they are.

Hundreds of persons saw the demonstration of affection for their mother, and a few later witnessed a meeting between Oliva Dionne and her quintuplet daughters that was quite as enthusiastic. But those hundreds will grow to thousands in the next few weeks.

Dr. Dafoe has decided that after June 15 the public will be received from 9:30 to 10:30 in the morning and from 2:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT NOW ON WAY HOME

SOUTHAMPTON, May 26 (P).—The Canadian Services' contingent to the Coronation, along with the remaining member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, sailed for home today aboard the liner Montclair.

Mayor H. Chick bade them farewell amid the cheers of spectators who lined the dock.

Sergeant J. B. Barker, who suffered an attack of pneumonia poisoning before leaving Pictou, Camp, went directly to the ship's hospital bay.

Distribution of United Automobile Workers' Leaflets at Dearborn Plant Forbidd—Strike Called in Company's California Factory

DETROIT, May 26 (P).—Ford Motor Company employees with swinging fists repulsed the first organizing move of the United Automobile Workers at the Ford Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn today, beating and chasing from company property four union officials.

After fifteen minutes of hand-to-hand fighting, unionists seeking to distribute union literature under a permit of the Dearborn City Council were dispersed. They continued distributing leaflets at street intersections within a radius of a mile of the plant.

The union listed sixteen persons, including seven women, as injured in the fracas.

Machine-Gun Fire Forces Liner to Ground Behind Spanish Government Lines Near Bilbao—One Passenger Also Injured—Insurgent Attacks Evaded Several Times Previously

BILBAO, Spain, May 26 (P).—Seven insurgent warplanes forced down a French transport plane in a hail of machine gun bullets near here today and wounded a Spanish passenger and Jean Gally, veteran French pilot of the Biarritz-Bilbao Air Line.

The insurgent air fleet, surrounding the "air pyrenenes" plane near Sopelana, thirteen miles north of Bilbao, forced Gally to "pancake" his liner on a strip of sandy soil behind the Government lines.

Gally and the wounded passenger were rushed by automobile to the besieged Basque capital for treatment. The pilot, suffering head wounds, immediately underwent an operation, but was expected to recover.

Supply Machine Reported Safe at Pole After Being Missing for Hours

MOSCOW, May 26 (P).—The third supply plane of the Soviet Union's North Pole Expedition, missing since early today, was reported late tonight as landed safely somewhere near the Pole. Professor Otto J. Schmidt, leader of the expedition, radioed that "apparently" the plane, which took off late Tuesday night from the Rudolf Island base, carrying a year's supplies for the party of four who are to remain on the ice near the Pole for a year, Rudolf Island is about 560 miles from the Pole.

Mazur's plane was one of three which took off late Tuesday night from the Rudolf Island base, carrying a year's supplies for the party of four who are to remain on the ice near the Pole for a year, Rudolf Island is about 560 miles from the Pole.

ONE LANDS AT CAMP
Pilot Vassily Molokoff brought his heavily-loaded plane down at the camp established by the advance party of thirteen who flew to the neighborhood of the Pole May 21.

The second plane, piloted by A. D. Alexieff, came down safely about thirteen miles beyond the Pole after over-shooting its mark.

Some anxiety had been felt for Mazur and five others aboard his plane when they were still missing more than twenty-four hours after the take-off, but Schmidt's message dispelled such fears.

The three planes took off from Rudolf Island with their eight-ton cargo of food and supplies last night, Molokoff completing the 560-mile dash in 7 hours and 24 minutes.

HURLS CHALLENGE IN QUEBEC HOUSE

Member Asks to Meet Colleague Anywhere Starting Wild Scene on Floor

QUEBEC, May 26 (P).—A quiet session of the Quebec Legislative Assembly became suddenly lively today when Candide Rochefort (Un-Montreal St. Mary) moved to take up a challenge of Auguste Boyer (Un-Chateauguay) to meet him "any time or anywhere."

A third Government member, J. T. Laroche (Un-Levis), stepped between the two Union Nationale as they started toward each other.

The Montreal member was making an appeal to the Legislature for assistance to his city's unemployed through public works programme when the incident occurred, and his speech was made to the accompaniment of heckling from Boyer only a few seats away.

Walkout Involves 80,000 Employees in Thirty-Four Plants of Three Companies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 26 (P).—Steel workers organizing committee strike went into effect tonight at plants of three major independent steel producers in five states.

The walkout applied to a total of thirty-four plants located in Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Indiana and New York, employing approximately 80,000 workers.

Picket ranks burst into cheers as the men left the mills. All available police throughout the valley had been assigned to maintain order, but no reports of disturbances were received.

American Climbers Will Try to Conquer Mountains of Yukon

Lucania the Goal of Four Alpinists Planning to Carry on From Point of Former Expedition's Failure—Start in June

BOSTON, May 26 (U.P.)—Mount Lucania, snow-capped peak towering 17,150 feet in Canada's Yukon territory, was the goal tonight of four intrepid American Alpinists as they laid plans to carry on from where another party was turned back among the mountain's virgin fastness.

Plans for the June attempt to scale the Canadian peak were revealed tonight by the New England Museum of Natural History in Boston and the Institute of Geographical Exploration, Harvard University, sponsors of the expedition, at a dinner given for Bradford Washburn, of Cambridge, who will be leader of the party.

MEMBERS OF PARTY

Bradford, veteran explorer of Alaska, will take with him Russell Dow, of Woodsville, N.J.; Robert H. Bates, of Philadelphia, Pa., and Norman Bright, of Sunnyvale, Cal., formerly of Bellingham. Robert Reeve, of Valdez, Alaska, will fly the expedition in a ski-equipped plane.

Already Dow and Reeve, using special photographic maps, have reached supplies on the Walsh glacier at the 8,500-foot level near the Lucania's towering height.

Plans revealed that the party hope to scale the icy southern cliffs, which turned back a party, consisting of Henry Wood, of the American Alpine Club, and Hans Shearer, Swiss guide of Portland, Ore., who subsequently scaled nearby Mount Steele in 1935.

The Wood expedition is believed to be the only party ever to make an assault on Mount Lucania.

TO ESTABLISH CAMP

Washburn and Dow plan to arrive at Valdez, Alaska, about June 11, from where they will proceed to the base of the mountain and establish a camp prior to the arrival of the other members of the party, about one week later.

The four men hope to start their ascent of the unclimbed pass between Mount Lucania and Mount Steele, shortly before July 1.

Whether or not they are successful in scaling the icy cliffs of Mount Lucania, the party will climb Mount Steele. They expect to climb both peaks by the end of July.

CLAIMS NURSES ARE SUFFERING

C.C.F. Nominee Says Tuberculosis Caused by Their Working Conditions

"Tuberculosis among nurses in training is becoming alarming, not only in British Columbia but elsewhere, and it is due to the conditions under which they are working," declared Mrs. K. A. Bell, C.C.F. candidate in Victoria, at a meeting in George Jay School last night. Mrs. Bell was speaking of what the C.C.F. had attempted to do to assist nurses in training. She said there was a large percentage of tubercular patients in sanatoriums who had broken down while in training in various institutions.

Mrs. Bell also took issue with Alderman W. T. Straith, Liberal candidate, who, she quoted as saying there was no need now for a C.C.F. party. She maintained the need was greater than ever, because of the refusal of the Liberal Government to accept amendments to legislative acts in the Legislature. She jokingly remarked the only C.C.F. measure adopted was the Boxing Day holiday for shop workers.

NIGEL MORGAN

Four Commonwealth candidates addressed the meeting. Nigel Morgan dealt mainly with the ideals of Socialism and the necessity for practical programmes to supplant "sweet-sounding slogans of old-line parties." He maintained the inability of municipalities to exist under the present load of taxation and believed motor and gasoline taxes rightfully belonged to the lesser governments in the province, instead of that form of revenue being used to balance budgets.

He outlined the proposals of the C.C.F. to institute a planning board to work with the Administration; the setting up of a consultative council composed of representatives of all groups in the community and the establishment of commissions to control utilities and natural resources, and the ultimate socialization of production and distribution.

J. J. WALKER

J. J. Walker said it should be admitted that there had been a certain amount of efficiency in the capitalist system, but that efficiency "was simply the socialistic idea coming through. Socialism gives us service from within and keeps on expanding and never goes backwards," he stated. He referred to capitalism as a granary with rain coming through the roof, because it was rotten, and rats coming through the floor, because of the graft, and suggested the only way to get rid of both was to build a concrete granary and "that could only be done in a socialistic state."

WILLIAM CAIRD

William Caird said his address was of a pessimistic nature, because he was dealing with recurrent depressions. He predicted a new depression for the world by the close of this year. "It will be worse than the last, from which we never could have been freed had it not been for artificial stimulation in industry," Mr. Caird stated he was referring to the building of armaments, "not for war or for preparation for war, but simply to stimulate the economic machine. Capitalism, he said, must continually find new avenues to reinvestment. What the C.C.F. suggests, he remarked, was that the people take over British Columbia, the Dominion and the North American continent "and run it for themselves and not for a privileged few. We produce and the privileged class uses the wealth we create," he concluded.

Kenneth McAllister was chairman and there was a question period following the meeting.

Firewalking Test in London

Here we see the firewalker heading the volunteers through the burning embers.

Opera Group Gives Faust Scene Well

The beautiful "Garden Scene" from Gounod's "Faust" was presented by the Victoria Grand Opera Association for its second regular monthly musicale last night at the association headquarters, 1753 Rockland Avenue. About 140 members and their friends attended.

Directed by Basil Horsfall, the cast gave a most creditable presentation of the scene, the well-enacted parts showing the results of careful coaching and enthusiasm on the part of the singers. Enhancing the realism was the artistically designed scenery, the work of Miss Mary Hughes; the admirably costumed, and the excellently-managed lights and stage properties, Douglas Hodgson being in charge of these last details.

The presentation was prefaced by a brief outline of the story of Faust and the composer, Gounod, which added much to the interest. Those taking part in the much-enjoyed performance were: Doris Rawlins, in the role of Marguerite; Grace Tuckey as Siebel; Vivian McCahill as Martha; Dave Hunter as Faust, and Arthur Jackson as Mephisto. The instrumental music was provided by Mr. Horsfall at the piano.

It was announced that the next presentation would be on Wednesday, June 23, when Act II and perhaps part of Act III, from "Bohemian Girl," will be given.

Following the programme last night, an informal social time was enjoyed, during which refreshments were served.

SOCIAL CREDIT IS EXPLAINED

Saanich Nominee Attributes Many Present-Day Problems to Banking

The people of this Dominion should be given access to their production to the limit of their ability to produce. In such a manner, individual freedom of action will be restored, and unemployment and crime reduced, Major A. H. Jukes, Social Credit candidate in Saanich, told an interested audience at Lake Hill Community Hall last evening.

Major Jukes declared the tension in Europe was influencing the economic life of the peoples of the world. Relief and unemployment, he said, was on the increase, while, meanwhile, all were seeking a solution of the problem of distribution, a problem, like all others affecting Canada at this time, having its basis in money.

He maintained that industrial capitalism was on its knees to financial capitalism, and that industry as a whole was not making money.

ENOUGH FOR ALL

"There is no poverty in this country," he said. "We have enough to provide for all. It is true we have machines displacing man power. The trouble lies in the fact that the people do not get a proper return from these machines."

The speaker declared that in finance lay the control of governments, and that in 1934, 54 per cent of the revenue of the Government went in interest charges. "What will happen when all revenue goes in interest charges?" he asked. Continuing, Major Jukes asserted that banks were the origin of all money, that they lent capital, but demanded back both interest and capital, and that it was natural that they should endeavor to keep the people in perpetual debt.

He defined money as "price tickets to be exchanged for commodities," and asserted price tickets on goods included wages, salaries, dividends, depreciation, insurance, returns on loans and interest. On the other hand, he pointed out, the only thing issued to the man on the street was salaries and dividends. Since the amount demanded by "price tickets on goods" was in excess of purchasing power, it became necessary for the Government to make up the difference. "That dif-

Candidate Declares Conservatives Will Balance the Budget

Herbert Anscomb Says Ordinary Operations of Government Must Be Covered in Ordinary Budget—Nominees Address Ward Meetings

THREE of the four Conservative candidates in Victoria City addressed meetings last evening in Sir James Douglas School and in Margaret Jenkins School. Herbert Anscomb, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter and F. A. Willis appeared, with their supporters, on the platforms at both meetings. B. A. McKelvie, the fourth Conservative candidate, was out of the city.

Lindley Crease, K.C., presided at the meeting in Sir James Douglas School. William White was chairman at the gathering at Margaret Jenkins School.

In his rapid-fire address, Mr. Anscomb reviewed the public affairs of British Columbia. He insisted that the public debt of the province was nearer to $200,000,000 than the sum which Hon. John Trant had presented as the "net debt" of British Columbia.

"NET DEBT NEBULOUS"

"Nobody can say just what the 'net debt' of British Columbia is," said Mr. Anscomb. "Nobody can say, for instance, what the sinking fund of this province would produce." With millions tied up in securities of the Province of Alberta, and with the Premier of Alberta repudiating Alberta's financial commitments, Mr. Anscomb believed that it was doubtful if Alberta securities would fetch anywhere near what they nominally stood for.

"The budget of British Columbia is going to be balanced," asserted Mr. Anscomb, "and when we say balanced, we mean balanced. The ordinary operations of Government must be covered in the ordinary budget, and Mr. Hart, in 1935, admitted that the cost of unemployment relief should be charged to the Government of British Columbia."

When Mr. Hart claimed to have balanced the budget in the last few years, said the speaker, he left out the charges against the Provincial Government on account of relief. So long as relief is not taken care of, claimed Mr. Anscomb, no government could truthfully say that the budget had been balanced.

GILT WEARING OFF

Province of Alberta securities, said Mr. Anscomb, were once gilt edged, but when "the Province of Alberta started to go stupid so far as money is concerned, when its securities started to lose their gilt edge, they should have been sold. The guardian of provincial finance should have known when to sell them," contended Mr. Anscomb.

Mr. Willis said that the Province of British Columbia, in the last three and a half years, had been "making a mess of one of the fairest paradises on earth. The Conservative Government, when it is elected, will put a stop to juggling with figures."

Reckless expenditure, he said, had been the policy of the Liberal Government in the last year or two, and it was pledged to a continuation of that policy. It was time to put a stop to a policy under which "we have hung a millstone of debt about our children's necks." He said the Conservatives are determined that this increase in debt shall cease immediately.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Dr. Hunter stressed the need for better treatment of the municipalities at the hands of the Dominion and the Provincial Governments. He was in favor of a more equitable distribution of grants as between the smaller and the larger municipalities. He criticized the road policy of the Pattullo Government. He favored the establishment of a highway commission in British Columbia, composed of men who know their business, rather than of politicians.

"If the building of roads is placed in the hands of such a commission," asserted Dr. Hunter, "it will save the ratepayers of British Columbia hundreds of thousands of dollars every year. So far as I am concerned, such a commission will be appointed," concluded Dr. Hunter.

At the meeting in Sir James Douglas School, Hugh Allan spoke in support of the four Conservative candidates in Victoria. At the Margaret Jenkins School meeting, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown made a witty appeal for the Conservative cause.

Minister Says B.C. Is Ready to Meet All Its Maturities

Hon. John Hart Declares Refunding Will Have Rearranged Basis of Major Portion of Provincial Debts by 1942, With Alternatives Open

"BETWEEN now and 1942 there will be approximately $100,000,000 of provincial debt maturing. There will be no default. Long before that we expect to be able to refund the bulk of British Columbia's debt on a basis that will permit of considerable tax reduction. Assuming that for any unlooked for reason that should fail, we would still be able to take care of every dollar of those maturities by other means." Hon. John Hart declared in defence of fiscal policies of the Pattullo administration last evening before Saanich Ward Four Liberals.

The Minister of Finance spoke for an hour at Marigold Hall in support of Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., Saanich Liberal candidate. H. E. Bell presided. Mr. Hart said, in part:

AIRIED IN HOUSE
"All this was discussed in the Legislature, not once but several times. It is quite true that approximately $100,000,000 of provincial debt will mature between now and 1942, but $91,000,000 of that was borrowed from the Dominion for unemployment relief, and I doubt very much if the Province will ever have to pay it."

Then $30,000,000 is involved in the guarantee given by the McBride-

Bowser administration on the P.G.E. Railway. We will look for a refunding scheme in London on that, and I can say we have already made plans to that end, by keeping up the sinking funds on the inscribed stock and in other ways.

SAYS BALANCE COVERED
"That leaves $40,000,000, because the maturities are not quite $100,000,000 by 1942. Even if we did not add a single dollar to our present sinking funds, we have $34,694,000 there now and long before 1942 we shall have made them up to a still larger sum. Assuming, however, that we did not, then that would leave $6,000,000 to be found. Well, we owe $6,000,000 to the bank on

Women and Children Flee Bilbao

Salvaging their beds and what other personal effects they could carry, these women are some of the thousands that have fled from Bilbao, Spain, since the insurgent armies began their drive against the Basque capital. British and French ships are evacuating women and children as fast as they can from the city of terror, where daily bombardments by air and ground artillery have created an inferno rivaling Dante's brain child.

treasury bills, but the bank is not pressing, and even if it did the market would absorb the sum without difficulty.

"Parties worrying about those maturities, and some of them must have been asleep in the House when these matters were discussed, may rest at ease. Long before 1942 we expect to have refunded. So long as I am Minister of Finance, there will be no default in British Columbia on a single dollar," Mr. Hart declared.

The gross debt is $187,000,000 and all of the debt is within that figure. Against that we have sinking funds of $34,694,000, leaving a net debt of $152,306,000, and not $200,000,000 as some people are trying to tell you. When the previous regime took office, the net debt was $87,000,000, and when they left it was $136,000,000, and you can figure the difference for yourselves.

"Total borrowings by the present administration have been $24,772,000, of which $18,000,000 was for unemployment relief, $3,000,000 for the Fraser Bridge, and $3,772,000 for the last loan, secured for works, at a cost of 3.5 per cent, the lowest in the history of the province." Against that we reduced short-term debt of the previous administration and other debt by $6,000,000, and had earnings of more than $3,000,000 on the sinking funds. In other words, we increased the provincial debt by $15,776,000 in three years and a half and under circumstances fully explained.

"In our sinking funds are $28,737,000 invested in our own bonds and these could be canceled at any time. The only Saskatchewan or Alberta bonds in those funds are those bought by my predecessor in office, and I succeeded in unloading $1,200,000 of those issues, buying in our own securities at a profit. The market value today of Alberta securities we still hold is $399,000. Those are the facts. I am not responsible for the debt, some $70,000,000 of which was created under Conservative administrations and some by those who are today misrepresenting the true situation," Mr. Hart concluded.

Norman W. Whittaker spoke briefly, outlining what the present administration had done to meet the problem of unemployed youths. Forestry, placer mining and other camps had been set up and recreational and other training given in plans that had benefited large numbers of young men.

Epsom Salts Was Fatal to Hoppers in B.C. Interior

FARMERS who have fed arsenic to grasshoppers for years in efforts to control these pests are proceeding on the wrong assumption, district agriculturists advised the Province yesterday, after tests with 100 pounds of epsom salts, bran and molasses in a mixture said to be fatal to grasshoppers but innocuous to livestock or man. The tests were made in the Interior and left the grasshoppers without a leg to jump on, it was creditably reported here. Details of the experiment will be laid before the public shortly by the British Columbia Department of Agriculture.

LONG CONFERENCE

Prior to the Labor Ministry's announcement tonight, the Transport Board and the union's executive held a long conference. The executive took control of the strike into its own hands after the busmen's committee had failed to reach a conclusion of the long-drawn dispute.

A statement, in which both the workers and the Transport Board concurred, said men reporting for work on Friday will be reinstated and "the period of the strike shall not be deemed to be a break in their service."

search of cattle. No further clue to their whereabouts was obtained until early today when a searcher found their tracks near a deserted cabin seven miles from where they were last seen.

Parents thought the girls were staying overnight with neighbors and the search was not begun until Monday morning, since then thousands of acres of bush country have been combed. Pears were held the children might have been attacked by bears which roam the wild Porcupine forest reserve.

Rains which fell Sunday and Monday obliterated track and search parties were at a loss where to begin the hunt. Passing Indians found the girl this afternoon twenty miles northwest of the home of her father, Nick MacFishyn, and returned her to her parents.

"It reminds us of the old song: 'Let's Call the Whole Thing Off,'" said Mr. Sheppard. "After Mr. Pattullo has warbled: 'I say potatoes' and Dr. Paterson has chanted 'I say potatoes' for weeks on end, at the top of their voices, they go to the poll and they agree to call the whole thing off."

Pursuing the point, Mr. Sheppard declared that "the workers get neither potatoes nor potatoes."

He asked for more serious attention to the real needs of the average citizen. People in Saanich, he said, were awakening to a sense of the real power of the ballot.

What Is Correct?

Is it ever good manners to tip the soup plate?

No, it is never correct to tip the soup plate. When soup is served in cups, one may pick the cup up by the handle and drink the soup. This applies to both thin and thick varieties of soup, when served in cups.

What are the best man's duties?

The best man makes himself generally helpful to the groom, makes sure the groom is properly dressed, attends to luggage, hotel, boat or train arrangements, takes charge of the wedding ring and the clergyman's fee. He gets the groom to the church on time, hands him the ring, and gets him off on his wedding trip.

When should a woman rise?

A woman always rises when the person who is making the introduction or to whom she is being introduced is much older. She does not rise when a man her own age is introduced, and she need not rise if others are present when she is introduced to another woman her own age. Of course, a hostess will always rise when guests arrive or leave, or when she makes introductions.

The experienced hostess knows the importance of Full-Flavored Coffee

IT IS PROVERBIAL that a hostess is known by the coffee she serves.

If it is full flavored, it shows that she has the comfort of her guests at heart.

But if her coffee is weak and insipid tasting, it adds nothing to the enjoyment of her guests. No matter how beautifully her table is appointed, she is hopelessly branded as an inconsiderate hostess.

That is why so many experienced host-

HEALTH INSURANCE PLEBISCITE

There are many evidences to show that the Provincial Government has lost faith in compulsory health insurance, and the most convincing of these is that, with one or two exceptions, the Liberal candidates eschew the subject on their platforms. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that faith has been lost in the ability to provide a workable plan in British Columbia with its scattered settlements, its seasonal occupations and the uncertainty that exists in many industries of steady employment. In any case the fact remains that this doctrine of compulsion is being left severely alone by the great bulk of the supporters of the Pattullo Administration. The Premier himself, in any sporadic allusions he has made to the subject, has done so in a hesitating way. The fact is that the Government would gladly be rid of the issue, and that, of course, is the reason it has made it the subject of a plebiscite, although the claim was that there was a mandate to put it into effect as a result of the 1935 election.

Premier Pattullo admits that the legislation devised by his Government has met with "violent opposition." The opposition is to the compulsion that is intended, the attempt to regiment the people in the matter of their bodily ill health. It is directed as well against the increased income tax which is only applied, and applied in a discriminative way, to those who can least afford to pay it. It is in addition to the regular income tax and to the one per cent tax on wages and salaries which the Liberal Party opposed when first devised but which it took advantage of when it came into office and has been taking advantage of ever since. The compulsion in the matter of health, as provided for in the present Act, is a new instalment of the policy designed to fitch the liberties of the people. The tax arranged for to be collected compulsorily decrees what those who are mulcted will have to pay for a limited service of medical and hospital benefits. Some will have to pay more than others. The ultimate aim is to bring all within the scope of compulsion, presumably on the basis of a graduated income tax through which all will pay into a common fund to be handled by a bureaucracy.

Every one of the voters should regard this issue as of importance to himself or herself. Mr. Pattullo appears to think that many people do not understand the situation, and yet it is as plain as a pikestaff. The people know full well the terms of the present legislation. Its presumptive beneficiaries have already filled in the inquisitorial forms considered necessary to its operation. They know what the tax is; they realise the limited nature of the benefits that are proposed. They were told that the legislation was the best yet devised, and despite this Mr. Pattullo has to admit that it is inoperative. Any future legislation will be devised on the basis of the present Act. The only change likely to be made is the imposition of increased taxation, because the existing legislation has not been framed on an actuarial basis. Those who favor the legislation will be taking a leap in the dark so far as there is any knowledge of what it is going to cost them individually. They will be placing themselves in the position of being taxed an unknown sum for benefits which are and should remain a matter of personal arrangement.

One of the objects of the present Government, as has been clearly shown, is to create a series of bureaucratic bodies, the personnel of which will be composed of staunch adherents of the Liberal cause. For this purpose already the conception of health insurance by compulsion has cost the taxpayers upwards of $100,000, and it is costing them money every day because a Health Insurance Commission has been created and its members are enjoying their emoluments although the whole matter remains in abeyance pending the result of next Tuesday's plebiscite. It is an anomalous situation. It would appear as if the Government is anticipating a favorable verdict, and, therefore, considers it has the right to engage in expenditure of the taxpayers' money prior to sanction being given to such outlay. Wanton waste of this character for the purpose of providing party favorites with salaries may be a part and parcel of the gospel of spendthrift zeal, but it is a procedure that the voters can hardly fail to resent. The maintenance in office of a Commission whose purpose is inoperative is simply a dissipation of public funds. It is an indefensible procedure, and the Government has never attempted to defend its course in this particular.

In the interest of that form of Government which has for a cardinal principle the maintenance of the liberties of the subject, the hope may well be expressed that next Tuesday's plebiscite will be answered overwhelmingly in the negative. The people in this Province should never subject themselves willingly to compulsion where the intimacy of their domestic life is concerned. Mr. Pattullo may believe that the "violent opposition" to this compulsion can be "ironed out." He is mistaken in this regard. There still remain people who retain the doctrine that they should be free to manage their own intimate affairs, and, above all, those affairs that touch their physical well being. Through the half-baked scheme devised by the Government the health of the people of British Columbia would be no whit better off than it is today. If the scheme is to be "progressively applied," that means, more than anything else, a progressive increase in income tax for its operation, or a progressive decline in the benefits proposed. The fact that the great majority of the Liberal candidates in the present election campaign are leaving the subject of compulsory health insurance severely alone is proof positive that they do not wish, in their effort to secure political power, to come into conflict with the violent opposition there is to the measure now on the statute books and ordained by a Liberal Government. It will be well for a Province such as this, in its present precarious financial position; if it does not tinker with compulsion that means progressively increasing taxation on the workers, and eventually on the people as a whole.

PROFESSIONAL LISTENERS

The United States is the home of strange cults, but the latest, if cult it can be called, is the simplest yet devised. It is that of professional listeners, those into whose ears clients with souls perilously stuffed can pour their woes. The art of being able to listen without interruption is the profession's qualification. It originated with a young woman in New York who decided, on the advice of her brother, a doctor, to turn her sympathetic ears and heart into dollars. So she charged at the rate of $3 an hour and $2 for half an hour, and, putting an advertisement in a paper, secured a flock of clients. The only material stock-in-trade required was a room with two comfortable armchairs.

To the sympathetic listener there came stock exchange gamblers, mothers-in-law, exasperated wives, mostly middle-aged. The sympathy of silence idea has spread through the country, and very naturally Hollywood and Los Angeles have become the chief centres of professional listeners. These are replacing the professional psychologists who answer questionnaires by mail and who give spiritual advice by return post. The psychologists have failed because of their language with its "dizzy phrases." The ordinary seeker for solace is unaware of his "cosmic mind"; he cannot visualize the "apparent constructive and destructive laws of Nature." These prophets of solace have failed to point the way to radiant living simply because the spoken word never does that.

The professional listeners have found a better way. They never give advice; they are simply lay fathers confessor, who listen to those who want to get it all off their chests. Making money through the woes of others is a racket. It is indulged in by clairvoyants, psychologists and others, but perhaps none of all these has yet learned the "sublime simplicity" of recognition that "the supremely important and absorbing topic of conversation" is ourselves. This is the keynote of the professional listeners. They have taken their cue from those who have been listening so long and so often in the way of a penance in the home, in the club and at social gatherings. The ears at last have come into their own. They have become money-makers.

It would be an excellent thing if news broadcasts over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's stations could be kept up to date. Shortly before 1 p.m. yesterday in a news item dealing with the British Amateur Golf Championship victories were recorded for Locke, of South Africa, and Tolley, of England. At that time both had been eliminated from the championship and their defeats recorded over American broadcasting stations some hours in advance of the broadcast from CBCV.

The Edmonton Journal believes that Mr. Aberhart, the Premier of Alberta, is attempting to build a personal political machine on the remains of a wrecked civil service. He is engaged in the task of dismissing provincial employees and bringing about retirements in the service, presumably of those he thinks do not agree with his policies. The vacancies thus created are being filled with his friends. Mr. Aberhart, an apostle of Social Credit, has evidently got the sense of party patronage very highly developed.

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF INDUSTRY

The finding of "remedies for unrest" is an aspect which deeply concerns South Africa, and it is opportune to point out that any adequate inquiry into mining troubles on the Rand could not afford to ignore the psychological factors involved. An English authority has calculated that in the first quarter of the present century an average of more than 13,000,000 working days were lost in Great Britain each year in industrial disputes. A large proportion of this loss he declares has been due to the inept handling of men and situations, and expert study of the psychology of negotiations and of industrial relations would lead to improvements of technique which would prevent minor irritations becoming open clashes. At all points, therefore, knowledge of the human factor is the key to well-being, and South Africa cannot afford to neglect it.—The Cape Argus.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Breaking an association of seventeen years, the Seattle-Victoria air mail service is to be discontinued on June 30, United States postal officials announced recently. Thus passes into history the first air mail service on this continent, pioneered by the late "Eddie" Hubbard in the Fall of 1920, and flown successfully by himself for the first decade. Thousands of Victorians will remember the genial pilot who brought his flying boat down in Victoria Harbor to meet outgoing and incoming trans-Pacific steamers. This column had the privilege of flying with him on several occasions; once, indeed, on a honeymoon trip which turned out to be the luckiest voyage this column has ever made or ever expects to make. Short, thick-set, cheery, the late Eddie Hubbard was a shrewd and experienced pilot, whose safe operation of flying boats did much to promote air mail flying across the North American continent. It is of interest that he used the lighted smoke from industrial chimneys on the former Indian Reserve to land here at night, when the sea was glassy and the lighted smoke gave him his elevation; while at Lake Union he landed after night with the aid of street lamps near his hangar. After about ten years of useful service, in which avoidable accidents were entirely absent, the late Mr. Hubbard went on to larger fields, organizing cross-country services for the Boeing interests. He died in a hospital bed of a common ailment, missed by a host of friends and airmen the continent over. From that point the Seattle-Victoria route was taken over by others, among whom Percy F. Barnes, present holder of the contract, has been outstanding. Victorians will lose its earliest link with sustained commercial flying when the Seattle-Victoria air mail contract lapses on June 30. Unquestionably, development of the trans-Pacific route via Honolulu and Manila is the reason for the abolition of the Hubbard airway here; but the seed planted by the late flyer has grown into a mighty fine tree. In justice to the man who pioneered air mail flying in the new world, some airport on the new routes should be named in perpetuity after "Eddie" Hubbard.

FINANCES OF B.C.

Sir—Many investors in British Columbia bonds who are likely to exercise their franchise on June 1 are seriously concerned over the financial position of this province, despite all the "high-falootin' paragonisms" in the advertisements of the Pattullo Government.

Here is a list of British Columbia debentures maturing before the end of 1942:

1927 bonds totaling	$ 745,000.00
1928 bonds totaling	1,500,000.00
1929 bonds totaling	2,300,000.00
1930 bonds totaling	4,361,000.00
1940 New Westminster Bridge	3,000,000.00
1941 bonds totaling	24,536,936.00
1942 P.G.E. bonds totaling	20,160,000.00
Treasury bills due Federal Government (3, 6, 9 months)	32,000,000.00
Treasury bills due Bank of Commerce	5,940,906.00
Total obligation to be met	$100,944,342.00

Of the above the McBride Government is responsible for $20,160,000.00
Of the above the Tolmie Government is responsible for (re-lief) 10,000,000.00
Of the above the Liberal Government is responsible for 69,784,342.00
Party Government is responsible for 10,000,000.00
The above sums show which party was responsible for the burden of debt to be met in the next five years. Hon. John Hart was Minister of Finance during the period when this squandering of public moneys took place.

Here are some of the monuments that the Pattullo-Hart combination erected and handed on to the taxpayers to pay for:

The Sumas project; the Oliver project; the Creston land scheme; the Melville land scheme; the university land scheme; the New Westminster Bridge.

Is it any wonder that financial houses have hesitated loaning the Pattullo Government more than $3,000,000, which must be paid within three years? The increase of our public debt must stop.

J. W. JONES,
Former Finance Minister,
622 View Street, Victoria, B.C., May 26, 1937.

COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir—The first word of the above condemns it to all lovers of freedom and personal independence. No matter who thrusts compulsion upon the citizens of a free country, whether a Liberal or Conservative Government, compulsion means that our personal rights are taken away from us, to be administered by a governmental bureaucracy of high-paid officials (usually friends of the politicians).

We have already had a taste of this cost to the taxpayers, as about $100,000 has already been spent so far on the present unworkable scheme. I hear that the head of this bureau, for example, is paid a salary of $7,500 per year, and that he has a seven-year engagement, while the doctors, with all their work and responsibility, are only to be paid a pittance. And this proposed insurance scheme is only for those who are well able to pay for their own medical requirements, and does not apply to those who from lack of employment, etc., are not able to pay for the same.

Then the wording "progressively applied means without any limit," and at the whim of the Government, or its advisers. We want to know what we are voting for in the plebiscite on June 17. We do not simply want to sign a blank cheque to any Government, which would have to be paid by the taxpayers. There has been no such thing as an actuarial health insurance scheme of any Government, none that is self-supporting. The unfortunate taxpayer always pays the large deficit. Also such health insurance is open to abuse by those who imagine that they are ill.

There are now thousands of people insured in fraternal societies that provide for them in case of sickness. Such people could not afford to keep up their membership in their society if compelled to subscribe to a Government health insurance scheme. The hospitals would have to be enlarged at enormous cost, and their staffs increased, all at the taxpayers' expense. British Columbia now owes some two hundred million dollars, and the voters should not allow any increase of this debt. No wonder that the people in the Yukon Territory object to being made taxpayers in British Columbia.

We should consider well our personal independence and freedom of action, which it is still possible for us to retain by simply voting "NO" on the plebiscite on June 1.

J. F. WADDINGTON,
Harbor Road, Sidney, B.C., May 25, 1937.

The Rhyming Barber

Policeman Alex reports the following sign on the door of a Broughton Street barber shop: "I've taken a holiday (what do you know), finding a way to get rid of my dough; my blood pressure's up and my temperature low, so I'll start work on Thursday, raring to go." We were surprised to learn from Aubrey that Army and Navy Veterans in Canada is ninety-seven years old, having been organized in 1940 with the assistance of veterans of Nelson's navy and veterans of the wars of 1812-1815 who settled in Canada. An expression of loyal devotion to the King and Throne was dispatched by the organization that has seen eight sovereigns come and go. Our tobaccoist friend's wife is an economical soul. Last time we crossed our number tens under her table she burned "I always believe in having dinner late. If you keep people waiting for the meal, they appreciate anything they get. Then one does not have to go to the trouble of getting a big feed ready." Judging by the slim dimensions of our tobaccoist friend, his wife must often keep him waiting for his dinner. Heard last Sunday morning on Yates Street: "We did not think for a minute that he had gone broke until we saw him going to church again."

Mr. Pattullo's Bust

Salut: "I am Pattullo, Builder of Bridges and Roads, I am he who has given This province political codes; 'Twas I who promised the voters Wages and Work should be theirs. Now I offer them Better Terms, Solace for all their cares. So lest in ages to follow My fame is threatened with rust, I have directed a sculptress To fashion in bronze my bust. When it is finished, my henchmen, Grills who feed from my hand Will set this burlished memorial When River Fraser's spanned."

A Fine Record

Tim Keist, Victoria fisticuffer, has donned the leather mittens in exactly fifty bouts and during that time has traded punches with some really smart boys. His exploits, in the squared circle have taken him to different Pacific Coast cities. Many are the comments written by sport scribes on the showings made by this Victoria youngster. In twenty-four of his bouts Keist won via the decision route, while in eleven he scored knockouts. Ten draws are listed in his fine record and but five losses in fifty bouts. The Victoria boy has never taken the count. Gordon Wallace, Vancouver, recently dethroned Canadian welterweight champion, is credited with scoring a one-round technical kayo over Keist. That was about four years ago. Keist sprained a finger when he clouded Wallace in the head and was unable to continue with the injured hand.—S.T.

Glancing Over Sport

Stu Keate, Province sports writer, who was over here writing the recent British Columbia amateur golf meet, informed me that the $5,000 Evergreen Tournament will not be played in Vancouver this year. So that means Victoria and Vancouver are definitely off the schedule of the barnstorming American professionals. Too bad, I would like to have seen the ranking players come here again this year. If you followed that final last Monday at Uplands between Russ Case and Kenny Lawson, did you notice how Champion Kenny paid strict attention to the orders of his caddy, Alex MacDonald. If Kenny wanted to use a No. 6 iron, the caddy would say "nothing doing, use a No. 8." And the way the caddy advised Kenny on the greens. "I just had to take orders from him, that was all," Kenny told me afterwards. Mickey Cochrane, manager of Detroit Tigers, was seriously injured the other day when hit by a pitched ball by Bump Hadley. It is sincerely hoped that Mickey recovers fully and quickly. The last fatal accident in the majors was many years ago when Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, died from skull injuries after being hit by Carl Mays, of the Yankees. I understand that the British Columbia open golf journey has been shifted from Oak Bay to Uplands course this year. It has leaked out that Steve Casey, giant Irishman, will succeed Dean Denton as next heavyweight belt champion when they meet next month.—J.D.

Annual Tax Bills to Contain Optic Letter From Andrew McGavin, Chief Magistrate

A personal message of optimism from Mayor Andrew McGavin will be enclosed with annual tax bills to be dispatched during the first ten days of next month.

Following are extracts from the Mayor's letter:

"For the first time in some years the city is in a position to pay its way out of revenue, in spite of having to provide for a deficit of $40,000. This means the city is solvent and that brighter times are in store for all. I believe that it is possible to peg the mill rate in the 1940, and each succeeding year, the sum of $158,000 must be paid into the sinking fund in order to retire our present debt.

"I believe we can in future years meet our obligations without any increase in taxation. In conclusion, be optimistic, pay your taxes early, get behind your city and tell your friends all the good things we enjoy."

The host lodges are preparing a programme of sight-seeing trips, a banquet and various other entertainment for the visitors.

TWO PARADES PLANNED FOR CELEBRATION

Junior Chamber of Commerce Authorized to Proceed With Plans

ENTRIES INVITED
FROM MANY POINTS

Two splendid parades, which will include entries from all parts of the Island and the Lower Mainland, local societies, Oriental organizations and possibly the Cowichan Hindus, will be held in Victoria on Wednesday, August 4, and Saturday, August 7.

Plans have been under consideration for some time by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the organization was yesterday instructed to actively proceed with the matter by the Victoria Jubilee committee. It is anticipated that over $2,000 will be spent on the parades and banquets which will appear.

Invitations have been extended to local bands, and those from Port Angeles, Port Townsend and Seattle to participate, together with units of the Canadian and United States veterans.

MOUNTIES TO APPEAR

Tentatively, the parades have been divided into four sections, and may include visiting United States and British naval contingents, the local naval contingent and naval cadets; permanent militia, the militia, R.C.M.P., Canadian and United States veterans, British Columbia Police, Scouts and Cubs; with an appropriate escort; the Mayor, aldermen and other dignitaries, historical, commercial, service club, industrial, fraternal, comic and novel floats, decorated autos, and a pre-war vehicles section. Bands will be interspersed between each section and between the floats.

The committee of the Junior Chamber in charge of arrangements for the day parade, includes: T. Bird (chairman), W. Martin, G. C. Parrott, T. E. Williams, H. Francis, G. W. Allison, of the City Hall staff, and Captain N. Foster, assistant secretary, Chamber of Commerce.

Those looking after the night parade are: T. Sturges (chairman), E. Glover, B. Dillabough and E. Harris.

Fair Wage Bill

Passed in Quebec

QUEBEC, May 26 (C).—The thirty-eight-clause Fair Wage Bill of Hon. William Tremblay, Minister of Labor, was given all three readings to pass the Quebec Legislative Assembly on resumption of the session today.

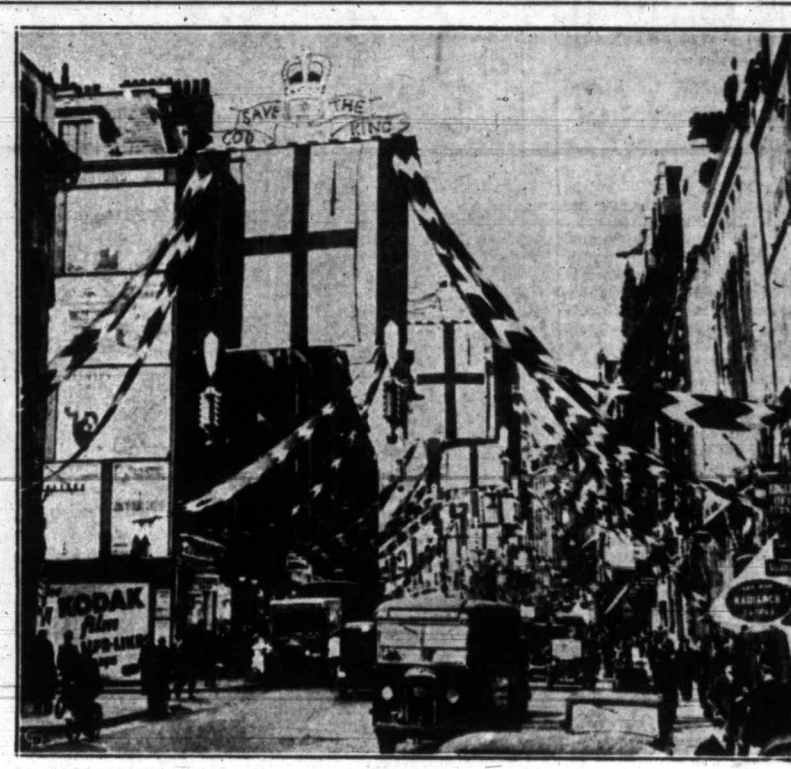

In establishing the new fair wage machine, abuses which have existed for years in many Quebec industries, as far as employees' lot was concerned, will be wiped out, Premier Duplessis told the House.

During January 1 and May 22, prepaid tax collections totaled $516,953.34, an increase of $585.72 over the same period last year.

GOES TO JAIL FOR ACCIDENT

James Scouler Is Sentenced To Six Months' Term With Hard Labor

James Scouler was sentenced yesterday to six months in jail with hard labor as a result of the accident that took place when the truck he was driving overturned on March 30 at the corner of Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street, causing grievous bodily harm to Albert Woods, who was riding in the truck with him.

Charged in the County Court with negligence causing injuries to his companion, the accused pleaded guilty yesterday morning when he appeared before Judge H. H. Shandley. When it was alleged that the accident resulted from wilful negligence, the prisoner wished to know just what this meant.

Scouler was informed that this meant that the situation was not one that could be described as purely accidental. Cleave White appeared for the Crown, the prisoner having no counsel.

SHOWS LENIENCY

The judge sentenced the accused to six months with hard labor, whereupon the prisoner asked for the sentence to date from the time of his arrest, which was April 5. Hesitating for a moment, the court finally agreed to this, intimating that he felt that probably the prisoner had profited from the lesson received. He called attention to the fact that the prisoner was fortunate that he was not appearing on a charge of manslaughter, which would have occurred had Woods been killed.

E. J. Todd, in his evidence, placed the speed of the Scouler truck when it struck him just west of the Christian Science Church to have been seventy miles an hour. H. A. Newell, who saw the accident, estimated the speed to have been then about forty-five miles an hour. The truck struck another car that came out of Quadra Street and turned over in trying to escape a collision.

Dr. J. H. Moore testified to the serious condition of Woods when he treated him in the hospital. He was suffering from internal injuries and a blood transfusion had to be given him before operation.

Farmer in Iowa

Is Sound Sleeper

GRAETTINGER, Iowa, May 26 (AP).—Farmer Con Brekke spent a restless night in bed. When excited neighbors awoke him at dawn, he admitted rolling over a couple of times at 1:30 a.m., when he thought he felt the house shaking.

"But I went right back to sleep," he said.

They showed him the roof of his house, blown off in a tornado, and his barns and outbuildings reduced to matchwood by the storm.

MARIMBA SOLOIST IS CLEVER ARTIST

Dorothy Heick Featured at Empire
Theatre Today With Major
Bowes' Amateurs

Dorothy Heick, piano and marimba soloist, will be featured with Major Bowes' Anniversary Revue at the Empire Theatre, with matinee and evening performances today.

Tall and slim, with brown hair and a fair complexion, Dorothy's complete voice and charming personality lend an added note to the brilliant finish of her performance.

She was born in Madison, Wis., about eighteen years ago, and at school her interests were divided between basketball, the dramatic society, the school band and as a member of the Girl Scouts. Of her first recital, Dorothy tells that she was so nervous she forgot to put her handkerchief on the chair, and so kept it in her hand during the whole number.

PLAZA FEATURES POPULAR STARS

Bruce Cabot and Ann Sothern at Plaza Theatre in "Don't Gamble
With Love"

The human and compelling story of a top hat society gambler who is "taken" in a big business deal, having decided to go respectable for the sake of his wife and son, and who then returns to the gambling business and proceeds to trim the "rackets," will be unveiled at the Plaza Theatre starting today, when Columbia's "Don't Gamble With Love" opens a three-day engagement.

The starring roles are portrayed by Bruce Cabot and Ann Sothern, with Irving Pichel, Ian Keith and Thurston Hall in support. Dudley Murphy directed the film from an original story and screen play by Lee Loeb and Harold Buchman.

GENE AUTRY IN EXCITING STORY

Singing Star Involved as Murder
Suspect in Columbia Feature
"Oh, Susanna"

Gene Autry, singing star, becomes involved in a new and exciting story treatment in his latest starring picture for Republic—"Oh, Susanna!" which opens today at the Columbia Theatre.

Instead of rescuing fair heroines and galloping to the aid of others, Autry spends most of the film footage trying to prove that he is not a killer and robber with a "dead or alive" price on his head.

Nevertheless his talents for song and music have full sway when he arrives incognito at an old friend's dude ranch. He aids his friend's daughter in entertaining cash customers while ferreting out the killer.

ATLAS—Annabella, a vivid new THEATRE screen personality, as different and alluring as her unusual name, stars with Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks in "Wings of the Morning." Twentieth Century-Fox release filmed entirely in natural Technicolor, and currently showing at the Atlas Theatre.

CAPITOL Although he wasn't on THEATRE the menu at the "Cafe Metropole," Loretta Young wanted Tyrone Power as a very special order, and Miss Adolphe Menjou sees to it in the Twentieth Century-Fox romantic comedy currently at the Capitol Theatre.

THRILLS PACKED IN LOGGING FILM

"Come and Get It," Opening at Oak Bay Theatre Today, Stars
Edward Arnold

The dynamiting of the giant logs and their thundering journey down the river are only two of the thrills in "Come and Get It." Samuel Goldwyn's production of Edna Ferber's colorful novel of life in the great lumber camps of the North woods, which begins a three-day engagement at the Oak Bay Theatre today with Edward Arnold in his greatest role as Barney Glasgow, the chore boy who became a lumber baron.

Joel McCrea, Frances Farmer, Mady Christians and Walter Brennan are also prominently featured.

STAGE PLAY BOASTS AN EXCELLENT CAST

There are so many excellent local players chosen to carry leading roles in the forthcoming production of "It Happened in Hollywood" that it is rather difficult to pick out any one or two and feature them.

However, in fairness, it is only right to mention Doreen Wilson, although still very young, a veteran of Victoria's dramatic and operatic life. Miss Wilson's performance in this musical-comedy-drama, to be presented at the Empire Theatre Friday and Saturday evenings, June 4 and 5, is being keenly anticipated.

HUGE CIRCUS PLAYS PUGET SOUND POINTS

The mammoth Al G. Barnes and Sells-Floto combined circus is bringing its 1001 wonders into the Puget Sound country. This huge amusement enterprise, known for a quarter of a century as the West's own great circus, is scheduled to play in Seattle three days, May 28, 29 and 30; then Bellingham on May 31 and Vancouver, B.C., June 1 and 2.

Attending this circus is truly a liberal education. The great double menagerie, with its 100 dena, presents wild beasts from the four corners of the earth, five herds of performing pachyderms, droves of camels, zebras and sacred oxen, lions, tigers, leopards, pumas, monkeys and rare birds form only a small portion of the wonders to be seen.

The performance itself constitutes two hours of thrills and chills. Opening with the brilliant spectacle, "La Fiesta de Spain," the programme runs the entire gamut of circus entertainment.

Esquimalt Women Hear Conservative Speakers

St. Paul's Parish Hall Filled to Capacity Yesterday Afternoon at Meeting in Interests of E. V. Finland, Conservative Candidate

"My advice to you, at this time, would be to put into the Legislature men who understand arithmetic—that two and two make four and that three from five leaves two—and that the mortgage on our province is working night and day while its citizens only work in the day, and some not at all," declared Miss E. V. Finland, in an address to members of the Esquimalt Women's Conservative Association and friends, at a meeting in St. Paul's Parish Hall yesterday afternoon.

Miss Agnew, who said it was her first political speech, reviewed the position of the province regarding debt obligations. She stated the country boasted of freedom, but she did not believe the people of British Columbia were as free as they might be. "We have an enormous debt, and how are we going to pay it, and where are we going to get the interest? It looks to me as if your great-grandchildren will have to pay," Miss Agnew said. She believed the Conservative party was sincere in its hopes to end borrowing and to place the Province on a sound financial basis.

PERFECT MEETING
The meeting was described by one of the speakers as "the perfect meeting, with good company, short speeches, good entertainment and refreshing refreshments." Mrs. S. R. Bowden was in the chair. The hall was filled to capacity.

Herbert Anscomb, Conservative candidate in four-seat Victoria, who was introduced as one of the keenest critics of the Government in the last Legislature, reviewed some of the causes of British Columbia's rising debt. He blamed the Liberal Administration for political squandering and political waste, which the Conservatives, he said, would end.

HERBERT ANSCOMB
During a recent tour of the Interior of the province, Mr. Anscomb declared he had found a decided movement away from the Liberals and towards the Conservative party. The issues in the election were clear, and there was little to distract the voter, so that when the election was over, no one could say he or she did not understand, Mr. Anscomb said. He also reiterated his charge concerning the position of securities in the Workmen's Compensation Fund. He claimed the fund had over $1,000,000 in Alberta bonds, which, if sold now, would not bring more than forty cents on the dollar. Holding these bonds, he argued, was resulting in a net loss of $25,000 annually, and maintained the Minister of Finance should have known months in advance that the Premier of Alberta intended to repudiate those bonds. "Mr. Hart has failed in his responsibilities to the workers of this province in not keeping that fund intact and sound," he stated.

Peerless Fashion Patterns

Edited by LAURA I. BALDY, A.M.
(For many years Assistant Professor of Household Arts, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, N.Y.)

Here's a "two-way" jacket costume.

The smart flared dress may have short raglan sleeves or may be sleeveless and backless, save for the halter neck and straps.

You'll want to make both dresses. They'll appear so entirely different. Choose a print cotton for the youthful—waistcoat—short-sleeved jacket. It will look adorable over your spectator sports dress of cotton, linen or tub silk.

Your sun-back dress, of course, will be of cotton or linen in a shade picked out of the color of the print.

You'll finish the dresses and jacket so quickly you'll want to make another sun-back in a cotton challis print.

The easy to follow pattern includes an illustrated step-by-step dressmaking chart.

Style No. 3269 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material for dress and 1½ yards of 39-inch material for jacket.

The Spring and Summer Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

Jubilee Hospital W.A.

Prior to the monthly meeting of the Jubilee Hospital W.A. yesterday afternoon, the officers and executive met at the hospital, where they were shown over the X-ray department by Dr. H. H. Murphy. Dr. Murphy explained the working of special equipment, some of which had been made possible through the efforts of the Senior and Junior Auxiliaries. Mrs. J. Phethead presided at the meeting and Mrs. H. G. S. Heisterman reported seventy-nine pieces made at the sewing meetings during the month. Mrs. P. E. Taylor reported $2 as dues from Mrs. Archie Alexander. Plans were made for the annual collection of membership dues, which will be at David Spencer, Ltd., from June 9 to 19. Miss Mitchell asked for one bolt of flannelette and twenty-four yards of sheeting for the fourth floor. Mrs. E. H. Griffiths and Mrs. Guy Ford were appointed the nominating committee, and additional nominations may be made by the officers and executive, and sent to the committee members not later than June 15, when nominations will close. The annual meeting will be held on June 30.

St. Paul's Y.W.A.

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church held its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the lecture hall of the church with the president, Miss M. Scott, in the chair. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Stewart, after which Miss R. Rodger read an interesting sermon. It was decided that the society would remain as an associate society. The allocation from the missionary was accepted for this year and arrangements made to purchase the clothing required. Tea was served and a short social time spent. Members are asked to bring in their special freewill offerings and also any finished patches for the quilt at the June meeting.

PRAIRIE VISITOR THINKS VICTORIA BEAUTIFUL CITY

Miriam Green Ellis, of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, who was a visitor in Victoria from Winnipeg this Spring, has an interesting account of Vancouver Island in the May 26 edition of her paper, and has this to say of Victoria:

"While one thinks of Victoria and Vancouver Island as 'English,' there is a very strong motif in the general pattern, which includes hundreds of people from the Prairies. Most of these brought money with them and are semi-retired. Some expect to earn their living from the farms and are a bit bewildered with the idea of actually earning money off four or twenty acres of land. It means a very definite readjustment of their sights. The soil does not look like the black dirt to which they are accustomed and they wonder if it will really grow things. They are not used to fertilization and it is a long cry from a six-horse team going down a mile-long furrow to one horse going through a strawberry patch. Presently they get over the idea that it is fiddling sort of work, and settle down to business. It is an easier climate than on the Prairies, and that goes a long way."

"That is one thing about Victoria. They like their own climate and the beauty of their surroundings. They have a lift of the eyebrow to Vancouver fogs, and as to the Prairies, it is only necessary to hear them introduce an acquaintance from beyond the mountain to realize what a great barrier these mountains are. The tone of voice would be the same referring to the South Sea, Little America, or Ghandi-Land: Victoria never waits for the stranger to say that it is beautiful land; her first question demands that answer. She is right of course, Victoria is still beautiful, but if she would just wait till you get your breath, you would say it without prompting."

Coronation Bridge and Tea Enjoyed

A Coronation tea and bridge party was held yesterday afternoon by St. Joseph's Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary in the Nurses' Home, the auditorium being filled with bridge players. The affair was convened by Mrs. Vernon Thomson and Miss M. Freeman, and in charge of tea were Mrs. Llewellyn Jones, assisted by Mrs. Fagan and Miss McKay.

Through the courtesy of David Spencer, Ltd., and the sisters and nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital, elaborate Coronation decorations were arranged in the auditorium. The tea table, decorated by Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, was particularly attractive, with a white pottery centerpiece holding Calla lilies surrounded by pink azalea blossoms and forget-me-nots. Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. H. A. Goward and Miss K. L. McKay.

The tea prize was won by Mrs. K. T. Hughes, and the prize winners at cards were Mrs. G. H. Cagnat, Mrs. J. M. Rust, Mrs. A. Kerr, Miss S. A. Robertson, Mrs. W. T. M. Barratt, Mrs. A. H. Group-Hearing Fund Benefited By Programme

A variety entertainment was given last night at the Crystal Garden, under the auspices of the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing, for the purpose of raising money to obtain a group-hearing aid. Many members of the club attended and greatly enjoyed the programme, the dance numbers and songs by Mr. Pierre Timp, Miss Vivien Combe and Miss Doreen Wilson being most popular.

The programme was arranged by Miss Combe and included numbers by her pupils and dancers from the Russian Ballet School, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson. Mr. H. G. Hinton was the chairman and announced the artists as they appeared. The accompanist was Miss Beatrice Stone.

Mr. Timp's baritone solos, for which he received several encores, were "When My Pancy's Running High," "George Hutton," and "The Victor" (Sanderson). He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Timp. Miss Doreen Wilson, in her charming manner, sang "Little White Dove" and "Sweet Seventeen," for which she gave two encores.

HUMOROUS SONGS

The audience was delighted with the humorous songs sung by Miss Combe, which included "Now I Have to Call Him Father," "All the Nice Girls Love a Sailor" and "Daisy"

Liberal Principles Given Enthusiastic Endorsement

Mrs. Rex Eaton, Vancouver, Addresses Meeting Sponsored by Victoria Liberal Women's Forum, Bespeaking Support of Four Local Candidates

In an address that was an endorsement of the general trend of Liberal policy as well as a summary of Liberal Government legislation during the past few years, Mrs. Rex Eaton, Vancouver, well known for her work as a member of the Board of Industrial Relations, yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, bespoke the enthusiastic support of the electors of Victoria for the four local Liberal candidates in the pending election.

Introduced by Mrs. A. C. Ross, who took the chair in the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Nellie McClung, Mrs. Eaton announced that she was deputizing for Mrs. Paul Smith, who was busy in her own constituency on the Mainland, but sent her good wishes to the four Liberal candidates here, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Hon. John Hart (Minister of Finance), Byron Johnson and Alderman W. T. Strath, who also occupied seats on the platform and briefly addressed the meeting.

PRINCIPLES IMPORTANT

Maintaining that she was more interested in political principles than in party politics, Mrs. Eaton said that she was a supporter of the Liberals because in their policies they had shown a strong and genuine intention toward humanitarian policies making for the welfare of the people as a whole. It would be foolish to say that during the Liberal regime there had been no mistakes made. Only the dead made no mistakes, and the Liberals were far from being dead; they were a very live and vital force, and in their policies had shown not only a capacity for meeting emergency situations, but for developing a constructive type of legislation anticipating the needs of the state.

Among the subjects specially touched on were the Hours of Work Act, the Apprenticeship Act, the Trades Schools Regulation Act and the Minimum Wage Act, which had either revived or provided much-needed social legislation. Asserting that the Conservatives had been responsible for cutting down the mothers' pensions and other social legislation on the plea of economy, Mrs. Eaton reminded her audience that it was to Hon. John Hart that tribute was due for having provided the funds for the restoration of these services.

The speaker rehearsed the steps taken by the Liberals for the alleged restoration of the functions of the Minimum Wage Act—which had been inoperative for nineteen years. This they had effected without antagonizing, or in any way dislocating industry. In fact in the majority of cases the employers had welcomed the move to such an extent that they had eagerly sought the Board of Industrial Relations in the hope of securing readjustment. The result was that both employer and employee had in the past three and a half years developed much confidence in the Government's intentions and desire to advance the public welfare.

NEW LEGISLATION

The benefits deriving from the Liberal regime's new legislation covering apprenticeship and the regulation of trade schools were also reviewed. Under the latter, trade schools must now be registered, "doing away with the racket that had existed for twenty years." This had met with no opposition.

The same with the Guaranteed Regulation Act, which guaranteed protection of unskilled and others from exploitation through piecework done in the home. British Columbia, with its large Oriental population, might have been a fertile field for the development of this kind of unscrupulous industry. Under the Apprenticeship Act, 300 boys and girls under apprenticeship in British Columbia enjoyed protection. Mrs. Eaton hoped that the near future would see some form of minimum wage legislation protecting the household worker.

SUPPORT WOMEN

Both Alderman Strath and Mr. Johnson warmly endorsed Mrs. Hodges as a candidate of whom not only the Liberals, but all the women of Victoria and British Columbia should be proud, the former recalled the proud record of the two Liberal women who had already occupied seats in the British Columbia Legislature—Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith and Mrs. Paul Smith.

Hon. John Hart spoke of the "even keel" which the provincial treasury had succeeded in attaining under the Liberal regime.

Mrs. Hodges, who was enthusiastically applauded, devoted the main part of her address to replying to the published letter of Robert D. Harvey, head of the Conservative Association here. Answering his comment that "women electors were more concerned in obtaining stability, security and integrity in government than in returning any individual member of their sex to the Legislature," she said that she had no intention, if she were elected, of upsetting the stability of the Government. Furthermore, active interest in public life did not necessarily mean the upsetting of home and family ties, as implied in his letter.

Hold Musicales For Violinist

A delightful musicale was given yesterday evening by Mrs. Henry Book at "Windyhaugh," the home of Mrs. Hebben Gillespie, who kindly lent it for the occasion. The party was given in honor of Mr. Clifford Evans, brilliant young violinist of Vancouver, who, among other numbers, played the first movement of Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto in E Minor, and Beethoven's Sonata No. 10, first movement.

Mr. Evans' performance showed that he already has a virtuoso technique and much musical comprehension, and bids fair to become an outstanding violinist, his handling of the difficult cadenza in the concerto being particularly thrilling to his audience. Mrs. Hebben Gillespie at the piano gave musically support.

Bridge Luncheon Held

The Coronation bridge luncheon and tea held yesterday afternoon at the Nurses' Home of the Jubilee Hospital by the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.E., was an outstanding success, twenty-five tables of players taking part in the bridge, and during the afternoon a large number of tea guests were welcomed by the recent, Mrs. James Baker. The card room had been beautifully decorated with flowers in shades of red, white and blue, red tulips, white lilac and blue iris predominating. The tea table, spread with a handsome Coronation cloth, had as its centerpiece a blue Italian bowl filled with blue iris, red roses, white sweet peas and maidenhair fern, the artistic handiwork and gift of Mrs. W. H. Brown. Luncheon was served at the individual card tables. Mrs. Harry Catterall and Mrs. W. N. Lenfesty being in charge. Mrs. James Baker was general convener of the party and the bridge arrangements were in charge of Mrs. F. W. Baylis and Mrs. George Mellor. First prize for contract bridge was won by Mrs. J. D. Johnson; consolation, Mrs. D. Christie; auction, Mrs. H. Shade, first, and Mrs. R. S. Standerwick, consolation. A competition arranged by the chapter was won by Mrs. George Lillie. The proceeds of the affair will considerably augment the chapter's fund for its hospital work, which is mainly devoted to the T.B. pavilion and men's ward.

Hostess at Tea Hour

Mrs. Wightman was hostess at tea again yesterday afternoon, when her sister, Miss Helen Smith, who is leaving shortly for a trip, was the guest of honor. Barker, Mrs. Tom Golby, Mrs. Max Young, Mrs. Harry Sparks, Mrs. Kenneth Adams, Mrs. Aubrey Westinghouse, Mrs. Edward Fox, Misses Alyce Baines, Florence Oates, Doreen Swayne, Inez Mitchell, Beryl Hyndman and Yrma Mitchell.

Miss Molly Biggs was the guest of honor last evening when three of her co-workers, Misses Betty Nicholson, Thora Ridout and Elsie Gibbard, entertained at a linen shower in the Bobette Beauty Salon. The many pretty gifts were suspended from streamers tied to the permanent wave machine, which also carried "current" good wishes for Miss Biggs' forthcoming marriage to Mr. J. S. Jackson. A color scheme of pink and green was used in decorating the reception lounge. A buffet supper was served later in the evening. Those present were Mrs. Seymour Biggs, Mrs. Eldridge, Mrs. C. Jackson, Mrs. Ransom and Misses Christie Donaldson, Gladys Bailey, Winnie and Irene MacAdam, Angela Smith, M. Snape, Elizabeth Nicholson, Alison Norie and Winnie Snape.

GERMAN WATERS
For the first time since the observance was instituted, German waters were included in the annual Maritime Day ceremony at the Battery, New York, when waters from all the seas were mingled with that of New York Harbor in commemoration of the seamen who lost their lives during the year. The Hamburg American Line-North German Lloyd arranged to supply a flask of North Sea water for the ceremony, which took place last Saturday.

NINETY YEARS OLD
Today the Hamburg-American Line is observing its ninetieth birthday with special celebrations aboard its 100 ocean-going vessels scattered throughout the world. The original service of the company was carried on by the little sailing ship Deutschland between Hamburg and New York in 1847. One June 20, the company will celebrate another anniversary, the fourteenth, when its ships will observe the fourteenth year of its Pacific Coast service through the Panama Canal.

SAFE HELIUM IS REQUIRED

Eckener Urges Senate Committee to Approve Supply To Germany

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP).—Dr. Hugo Eckener, Germany's foremost dirigible expert, said today that regardless of what caused the Hindenburg disaster, "we must change over to the use of safe helium."

He urged the United States Senate military committee to approve legislation which would make America's helium supply available to Germany for commercial purposes.

The German dirigible expert denied earlier testimony before the committee that the German type of dirigible could not operate commercially using helium, because of its reduced lifting power.

COLLEY AND LOCKE ELIMINATED FROM GOLF MEET

Twenty-Two to Run In English Classic at Epsom Next Week

Final Acceptors for the Derby Announced—Twenty-One Colts and One Filly to Face Starter—Le Ksar Is Now Favored to Win

LONDON, May 26 (P).—With the Derby only a week away, candidates today were undergoing finishing touches to their preparation for the turf classic.

Final acceptors today listed twenty-one colts and one filly as likely starters over the rolling Surrey downs at Epsom next Wednesday. The list included Evrenmond de St. Alary's Le Ksar, winner of the Two Thousand Guineas, who has been training in France, and Lord Astor's Cash Book, second favorite. The filly is Sir John Jarvis' Gainsborough Lass.

William Woodward's Perifox, first favorite, then second favorite, and now third in the public choice, was reported better at Newmarket today after having been on a walking schedule due to a jarred limb. The American-bred colt, a son of Gallant Fox, cantered over seven furlongs today, but experts said they would wait to see him given a strong gallop before deciding whether he is entirely recovered from his leg ailment.

C. H. Semblatt, the noted French jockey, is coming from France to ride the French-bred Le Ksar in an attempt to carry the English turf's blue ribbon across the English Channel for the first time since 1914.

Gordon Richards, England's champion jockey, will ride an outsider, Pascal, belonging to H. E. Morris, while fifty-two-year-old Steve Donoghue, seeking his seventh Derby triumph, will be up on Sir Victor Sassoon's Renardo.

Meyer Again Favorite to Win 500-Mile Race

TOMMY MILTON 1923

FRANK LOCKHART 1926

RAY HARROUN 1911

LOU MEYER 1928, 1933, 1936

Many thrills and accidents will be witnessed when the twenty-fifth running of the famous 500-mile Indianapolis auto race is run on May 31. This famous race is a test of sheer nerve, skill and daring, coupled with an abundance of speed. One of the strong favorites of the race is Louis Meyer, three times winner of the grueling race. Meyer has seen eight of his fellow daredevils killed in automobile competition, but still thinks it is safer on the track than driving along the highway. In the quarter of a century that this race has been run, many daring drivers have had miraculous escapes from death. All the winners of this race, with the exception of those killed in action, or still on the track, have retired and are now connected in some way with automobiles, either as salesmen, mechanics or in some line of the business. Another veteran of the game is Wild Bill Cummings, who is again entered this year. The record average speed for this marathon event is in the vicinity of 119 miles per hour. In the above layout, several drivers of years gone by, plus the 1936 winner, are pictured, along with an aerial view of the course.

GO TO SIDELINES IN THIRD ROUNDS; AMERICANS REMAIN

Former Champion and Ranking Player From South Africa Victims of Upsets in British Amateur Tournament—Gordon Peters Still In—Four U.S. Shotmakers Left

SANDWICH, England, May 26 (P).—Husky Gordon Peters, of Scotland, loomed tonight as the chief hope for retaining the British amateur golf title in the United Kingdom, as most of the British stars met defeat in the third round of the Simon-pure tourney.

The United States threat for the title won by Hector Thomson, of Scotland a year ago became serious as Cyril Tolley, twice champion, and Arthur D'Arcy Locke, nineteen-year-old South African phenomenon, lost.

Twenty-eight Empire players, most of them little known, and four Americans will contest the fourth round tomorrow morning. The fifth will be played in the afternoon, leaving eight players for the quarter-final round Friday morning.

British hopes were also placed on J. P. Pennick in the struggle to keep the title in the United Kingdom for the second straight year. The last United States holder was Lawson Little, now Canadian open champion, who could not defend his honors in 1936 as he had turned professional.

TOLLEY DEFEATED Pennick caught Tolley on a wild day and scored a smashing 4-and-3 victory. The veteran former champion was erratic after the turn, when he was one down. On the eleventh he took four shots to reach the green, and on the thirteenth he topped his drive and took four shots to reach the green. Then four down, he could do no better than half the fourteenth and fifteenth to end the match.

Dick Chapman, of Greenwich, Conn., and John O. Levinson, Chicago, holders of the New England title, were the chief United States hopes, while accompanying them into the fourth round were Wilford Wehrle, Eugene Wis, and Robert Sweeney, of New York and London.

Peters, twenty-six-year-old Scot, was the only member of the British Ryder Cup team still in the running. He defeated Locke 3 and 2 in the third round. The brilliant young South African, who holds both the open and amateur titles of his native country and had the best amateur score in the British Open last summer, took an early lead he could not hold.

Locke scored a birdie three on the second hole, dropping a six-yard putt, but Peters evened the match with a birdie two on the third. On the fifth both drives landed in a patch of sand. Peters topped his shot, but Locke three-putted, allowing his opponent a half.

PETER FAIRL Thereafter the South African's putter failed, losing him the sixth and seventh. He failed to sink a four-footer that would have squared the match on the twelfth and was allowed no more chances by his brawny opponent. Wehrle's play caught the eye today. After taking his second-round match from K. V. Braddon, 2 and 1, the American turned in an outgoing 34 to whip F. O. L. Agg. of South Africa, in the third round. This score, posted in the midst of the afternoon's wind and hail storm, represented some of the day's best golf.

Against Braddon, Wehrle dropped two of the first three holes, then won four in a row and stayed ahead. In defeating Agg the Wisconsin youngster took command at the sixth. Chapman found Ernie Chambers, of Great Britain, a stubborn foe, but the Briton's game collapsed after the turn, where he was all square, and Chapman took five holes in a row and the match, 5 and 4.

Levinson was given a close fight by Lieutenant-Colonel J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, elderly member of Parliament, but emerged with a one-up victory. Moore-Brabazon seized opportunity when he was one up after the thirteenth, Poulis really won the match at the 225-yard fourteenth, where he rammed down a twenty-foot putt for a duce. After winning the seventh hole, Sarazen had a chance to square the match by sinking a six-foot putt on the eighteenth green, but he hit the ball a foot short and retired in high rage to the clubhouse.

Neil Christian, of Yakima, Wash., was a first-round victim, being eliminated by Charles Schneider, of Concordville, Pa., 4 and 3. Cooper disposed of Revolta in one of the wildest matches of the day. On the eighteenth, Revolta misjudged his second shot out of the rough, hit it twelve yards over the green and lost the hole and match, to Cooper's par four.

Snead, Ghezzi, Smith and McSpadden all had to produce great rallies to stay in the running.

ed defeated Alvin (Butch) Krueger, of Beloit, Wis., two up.

Ghezzi beat Sam Parks, of Pittsburgh, former national open champion, by a single hole.

SMITH ADVANCES Smith had to go an extra hole to beat the veteran Al Watrous, of Birmingham, Mich.

First of the famous ones to go out was Armour, the handsome silver Scot, Sam Bernard, an able plodder from Chicago, sank him, one up.

Handsome Jimmy Hines also staged something of a comeback to beat Al Espinosa, of Akron, O.

Moving along serenely with his lively wife at his side, Denny Shute shot more good golf with less fuss than anybody on the golf course.

UPSETS MARK PLAY IN PRO TOURNAMENT

Sarazen, Armour and Revolta Removed to Sidelines in P.G.A. Meet

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 26 (P).—The irreverent golfing upstarts today wheeled the proud names of Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour and Johnny Revolta out of the twentieth United States Professional Golfers' Association championship at the Field Club.

In a day of shine and shade and drenching rain, of faltering starts and heroic finishes, most of the real favorite remained in the fight tonight. Of the sixteen men who will play in the thirty-six-hole third round tomorrow, twelve are members of the United States Ryder Cup squad.

These twelve are Denny Shute, defending champion; Ed Dudley, Paul Runyan, Jimmy Hines, Vic Ghezzi; Tony Manero, open champion; Byron Nelson, medalist; Ky Laffoon and Horton Smith, all of Chicago; Harold McSpadden, Winchester, Mass.; Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa.; and Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

The other four are Harry Cooper, Jim Foulis, Jimmy Thomson and Johnny Farrell, and these boys wrote perhaps the most dramatic story of the day.

DEFEATS SARAZEN Nephew and namesake of the winner of the 1896 national open championship, slim Jim Foulis took care of Sarazen. Unnoticed by the crowd which bothered Sarazen for his autograph, Foulis won the third hole of their second round match and Gene never got that one back.

Two up at the turn and only one up after the thirteenth, Poulis really won the match at the 225-yard fourteenth, where he rammed down a twenty-foot putt for a duce. After winning the seventh hole, Sarazen had a chance to square the match by sinking a six-foot putt on the eighteenth green, but he hit the ball a foot short and retired in high rage to the clubhouse.

Neil Christian, of Yakima, Wash., was a first-round victim, being eliminated by Charles Schneider, of Concordville, Pa., 4 and 3.

Handsome Jimmy Hines also staged something of a comeback to beat Al Espinosa, of Akron, O.

CONSTRUCTION OF CLUBHOUSE IS DISCUSSED

Plans Brought Up at Annual Meeting of Gorge Vale Golf Club

Construction of a new clubhouse at the Gorge Vale golf course was the chief topic at the annual meeting of members and shareholders, held at the club Tuesday night. A committee, under the chairmanship of Dave Hurdle, was appointed to go into details, including the securing of estimates. A large attendance of members was present.

Annual reports tendered by the retiring officers were all adopted as extremely satisfactory. During the last five weeks more than fifty members were added to the list.

TRACK and field stars of the Victoria High School will vie for honors tomorrow at the annual sports meet to be held on the campus. Forty-five events, fifteen for the girls and thirty for the boys, are listed on the lengthy and attractive program. With a large army of well-trained athletes, ready to face the starter's gun, followers of this branch of sport should witness some excellent competition before the champions for another year are crowned. BELIEVE IT OR NOT By Ripley

The Living Sphinx—Bernard de Fontenelle (1657-1757), academician, gossip writer, philosopher, critic, playwright and mathematician, wrote his first contribution to literature at the age of thirteen. He was a man of transcending intelligence and imperturbable disposition. He never laughed in his life, nor did he ever cry, have a friend or a lover. He lived to the age of 100.

A Best Seller in Spite of Twenty Publishers—"Robinson Crusoe," a best seller for 218 years and probably for all time to come, was written by Daniel Defoe, who founded his tale upon the experiences of Alexander Selkirk, a castaway on the lonely island of Juan Fernandez. The manuscript of "Robinson Crusoe" was rejected by a score of book publishers who failed to foresee the immense popularity of the work. William Taylor, who finally purchased the book, made a considerable fortune by it.

STEINBORN TO WRESTLE HERE

Giant German Booked for Semi-Windup of Saturday Mat Card

Champion weight lifter of the wrestling syndicate, Milo Steinborn, German heavyweight matman, will show in Victoria Saturday evening. Fred Richardson, local impresario, yesterday booked the giant-Touton for the semi-windup spot of his weekly grunt and green card at the Tillikum gymnasium.

Herbie Freeman, 265-pound New Yorker, who has made two appearances at the local palace of squirm, will be tossed in against Steinborn. The boys will go five eight-minute rounds or the best of three falls.

Following the bout, Steinborn will give a demonstration of muscle control and weight lifting.

Donald Clarke, Boston, and "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, ex-champion, will headline the bill. Booked to appear last week, their scheduled appearance was canceled when Sonnenberg was injured Friday evening at Seattle.

EX-SHADOW COMING Clarke, who gained added popularity for his shadowing against Casey Morrissey, the ex-shadow, here two weeks ago, will be the favorite in Saturday's eight ten-minute-round main event. One of the best performers to ever display his bone-bending ability for the benefit of local followers of the mat pastime, Clarke will certainly make things interesting for Sonnenberg.

Making a round-trip on the Coast circuit preparatory to a title shot with Dean Detton, present champion, "Gus the Goat" Sonnenberg, he introduced the butt to the mat game—has been taking on all-comers and with few exceptions has been winning his bouts. The special event with leading heavyweights performing, and the members of the Commonwealth in every way. With this is coupled the principle that it is for the Dominion Government and the Dominion Parliament to decide questions of policy. If, in the view of the Canadian Government, the conference discussions entail any action on the part of Canada the question would be frankly submitted to the Dominion Parliament at its next session.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES ALONE ARE PASSED

THE FINAL DECISION

It is with the Dominion Parliament that a decision would finally lie. There is no question of accepting any binding obligations at the Imperial Conference. This applies also to army staff conversations. Discussions, it was learned today, reveal broad differences of opinion affecting foreign policy, Empire defence and the future of the League of Nations.

Canada and South Africa oppose the Australian desire for a unified Empire foreign policy. They hold that common protection can best be secured by each Empire unit taking full responsibility for its own defence and working in harmony with the other units. Australia, on the other hand, has taken the ground that the Dominions should be prepared to offer counsel and if need be reinforce that council with assistance.

MAY BE PERMANENT

Hope was expressed that the new committee on munitions may become a permanent body, but without control of questions of policy. It would consider building of arms factories in the Dominions, and insure interchangeability of arms and equipment for war.

The Daily Telegraph's naval correspondent today predicted co-operation between the Royal Navy and Dominion fleets would be advanced by the conference. Ships of the Australian and New Zealand Fleets would join the Pacific Fleet for combined training; defences at Hongkong will be modernized and capital ships sent to reinforce the China squadron as soon as the present intensive building of warships permits.

Empire trade matters and other economic questions were expected to be discussed tomorrow and Friday.

KILLED IN SKIRMISH

TIRANA, Albania, May 26 (AP).—A Government communique announced today that Efen Toto, former Cabinet minister and leader of the May 15 revolt at Aggrykastro, had been killed in a skirmish with a gendarme patrol at the village of Golema.

FOOTBALL HEADS ARE RE-ELECTED

W. J. "Bill" Pynn, who has guided the destinies of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association for many years, was last night re-elected president at the annual meeting held in The Colonist boardroom.

"Bill" O'Connor, hard-working secretary, was also returned to office, in company with Ted Taylor, delegate to the provincial body. Jim Randall was appointed assistant secretary and registrar.

VISITORS POUR INTO BAY CITY

Celebration to Mark Opening of Great Bridge to Start With Ball

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26 (AP).—San Francisco turned out in force tonight to start a week's celebration marking the opening of the $35,000,000 Golden Gate Bridge. Delegations all the way from Canada to Guatemala began pouring into the city. Each of the Western States has sent delegations, as has British Columbia and several countries of Central and South America.

MARVEL OF ENGINEERING

The bridge, hailed as a marvel of engineering, will open to pedestrians tomorrow and to regular automobile and pedestrian traffic Friday. Almost five years under construction, the bridge spans the Golden Gate from San Francisco to the north. It contains the longest single suspension span in the world, 4,200 feet, and many engineering innovations occasioned by construction problems never before encountered.

BRITISH CHILDREN AVERAGE BIGGER

School Doctors Discover New Generation of Boys and Girls Has Finer Physique

LONDON (BUP).—School doctors in Great Britain have discovered that a new generation of taller and heavier children is being trained. The improvement is ascribed in some cases to the milk-in-schools scheme, and to increased attention to physical training. Sheffield children are reported by Dr. Chetwood, school medical officer, to be consistently bigger than their predecessors in the schools in 1920. The average boy of fourteen shows, he says, an increase over his fore-runners of three and a quarter inches in height and nineteen and a half pounds in weight. Girls of fourteen show, on an average, an increase of two and a half inches and fourteen and a half pounds.

Huddersfield's M.O.H. Dr. J. M. Gibson, refers in his annual report to "wonderful results" of the milk scheme and of physical training. "The average boy of twelve," he states, "is now three pounds heavier than the boy of the same age ten years ago."

Dr. A. J. Laird, school medical officer for Cambridge, reports a general increase of nearly 5 per cent in the height and weight of local school children since 1912.

STORM IN COLORADO DOES HEAVY DAMAGE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., May 26 (AP).—Heavy property damage was reported after a violent storm struck Castle Rock, county seat of Douglas county, forty miles north of here, this afternoon.

First reports received here said five homes were severely damaged, but Mayor Harold Center said that so far as he could learn no one was killed or seriously injured.

PRINTERS' FIE

His wife was looking very worried. Things were not going well. "I say, my dear," she said, "I'm afraid that was a very cheap cookery book I bought the other day. It was full of printer's errors. Have you seen them?" Hubby grimaced. "No—but I've tasted most of them," he replied.

HOLLYWOOD IN FINE VICTORY

Defeat Navy in Eleven-Inning Ball Game—Saatchi Defeats Colwood

Wilson Bishop's timely double in the eleventh frame brought the Hollywood Club through to an 11-10 victory over the Navy in a thrilling "B" section softball game at Hollywood Park.

Keenly fought all of the way, the tussle was finally broken up when Bishop crashed out a two-bagger to left field with two men on the cushions. It was a great triumph for the home club and a tough game for the sailors to lose.

Playing at Victoria West Park, Saatchi defeated the Colwood Wood Company, 4-2, in another hang-up exhibition. The suburban boys pushed across a pair of markers in the initial frame and held their advantage until the fourth when their opponents tied the score. After two scoreless frames, Saatchi scored a lone run in the eighth and added another in the ninth.

Ralph Mitchell and Billsborough, opposing hurlers, heaved good ball.

What Today Means

"GEMINI"

If May 27 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m., and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The day is a day of action, of energy, of achievement. It is a day when you will be called upon to do things that will require all your strength and resources. It is a day when you will be called upon to do things that will require all your strength and resources. It is a day when you will be called upon to do things that will require all your strength and resources.

Inattention this day will cause many mistakes and misunderstandings, particularly regarding directions, as well as bookkeeping errors. Excuses for carelessness will receive little consideration. It will be good judgment to be wide-awake, circumspect and careful. Much valuable time is apt to be wasted by chasing will-o'-the-wisps, or attempting to do things others have declared to be impossible. Thoughts and actions must be based on logic, if your endeavors are not to prove futile. Allow yourself plenty of time in which to do anything this day, even when it comes to getting in contact with people, or you may be disappointed in your results. Married and engaged couples, as well as all serious lovers, must be careful what means they use to gain any desired end this day. Any attempt to take an unfair advantage, force issues or to go contrary to wishes, will bring about a turbulent condition.

If a woman and May 27 is your birthday, you should be very talented, possibly in a musical or artistic way. Much of your unhappiness may be due to your being unduly sensitive. You have probably many more people sincerely interested in your welfare than you realize. When the occasion arises you can be very diplomatic. Remember it is just as easy to make enemies as it is to make friends. You cannot afford to have many of the former, nor can you have too many of the latter. You have the qualities of leadership, especially in social activities. You may become very prosperous through some sudden change in your affairs, but you must be careful when that time comes, that money does not turn your head. You may succeed beyond your most sanguine expectations, as a writer, entertainer, actress, artist, musician or in some business of your own. You probably will marry wisely and well.

The child-born on May 27 must learn in its early childhood not to be demanding. This youngster requires parental love, and should not be left too much to the care of strangers. The habits it acquires during its formative years may be hard to correct when it grows older.

If a man and May 27 is your natal day, your five senses may be unusually well developed. You ought to have a great appreciation for things of artistic worth. As a sculptor, painter, author, journalist, stock, bond, insurance or real estate broker, chemist, actor or engineer you may find yourself eventually sitting on the top of the world.

Security Prices Little Changed At Wall Street

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP).—The stock market today was trading drugged along at the slowest pace since April 4, 1935.

The backward behavior of the carriers, attributed in Wall Street mainly to disappointment in April earnings, gave the market some show of life.

An irregular run-up by U.S. Steel, netting 11-8 at 98-7-8, under the stimulus of the surprise $2 dividend on the senior group, failed to put any pep in the industrials and the average of this group was unchanged at 92.

Transactions at $48,000 shares compared with $41,980 Tuesday. In the bond market also sentiment was foggy and trends mixed at the finish.

WINNIPEG GRAIN GAINS SLIGHTLY

WINNIPEG, May 26 (AP).—Strong undertone predominated on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange at the close today after wheat futures recovered from mid-session setbacks.

Revel of export buying, estimated at 2,000,000 bushels, led to a steady upward movement from a cent under yesterday's close.

Despite varying weather reports and Southern selling, values finished 1-4 to 3-4 cent higher with May at $1.30, July $1.28 3-4 to $1.28 7-8, and October $1.19 1-4.

United Kingdom was credited with taking the bulk of the Canadian wheat, with minor amounts moving toward Spain and other Continental countries. Export buying extended into coarse grains, where May rose at one time sold 4-8 cents higher, but held only part of the gain.

Liverpool closed 13-32 to 23-32 lower. Buenos Aires at noon was 3-4 to 7-8 cent down.

Coarse grains were firm in light trading.

SHOW BOAT TO OPEN JUNE 18

Many Features Are Prepared by Management for Current Season

Victoria's 1937 Show Boat will be ready for the grand opening Friday, June 18, according to a statement made by David Leeming yesterday. The craft has arrived in the Inner Harbor after a rough passage from the West Coast, and a full gang of men is working upon its conversion.

Preparing for what should be an outstanding season, officials have arranged for the initial audition and rehearsal at 818 Blanshard Street tomorrow night at 7 o'clock, when the Royal English Showboat Pierrots, headed by Miss Gladys Mayius, will be present. The pierrots will appear on the Show Boat every Friday, commencing with the grand opening.

BANDS COMING

Fifteen Wednesday evenings have been reserved by the Jubilee Celebration Committee, who plan to feature community sing-alongs and band concerts.

Each Monday, commencing June 21, there will be amateur shows with Curley's Harmonious Harpists.

Several bands will play here during the season. The Terminal City Band, which will be here for five days, commencing July 17, is billed to appear on the evening of July 20.

ADDRESSES CLUB ON GOVERNMENT

SHAWIGAN LAKE, May 26.—A good attendance marked the regular meeting of the recently-formed Shawigan Young Canada Club, held in the S.L.A. Hall on Saturday evening, with the president, B. Weber, in the chair.

The speaker of the evening was J. S. Taylor, M.P. for Nanaimo district, who delivered a non-partisan address, in which he exhorted the youth of the country to cultivate a true sense of proportion and good judgment. In interesting historical vein, he followed the evolution of government from the Roman Empire to the present. Mr. Taylor gave some impressions of the recent Dominion session, and in closing quoted one of the inscriptions on the Peace Tower at Ottawa: "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

Line Up for Transportation

Eager to catch one of the few buses still running in London during the current strike of busmen, this clique of Londoners is shown lined up to file into the omnibus. Striking busmen rejected an agreement of the company on the eve of the coronation, forcing millions of citizens and visitors to use the underground railways during the elaborate ceremonies.

CHAPTER LXI

And so Sandra heard the details about the cruise on Jack Cramer's Pennmore and the Bermuda house party and was not particularly surprised to learn that most of Stephen's time in Chicago had actually been spent in Kansas City. She was not surprised, but she was strangely angered by the thought that this Kansas City girl had wangled Stephen away from her.

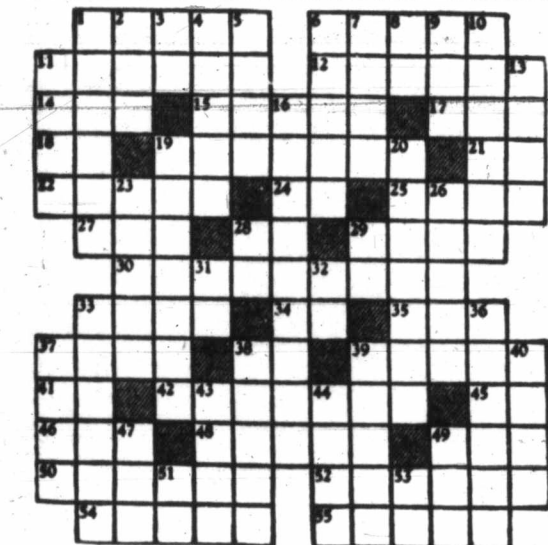

But when she faced Stephen across the little table next day and witnessed his earnest effort to pretend that everything was just as it had been always, she put her pride down and was a little happy for this Julia Markham whom she had never seen.

"Let's stop the make-believe, Stephen," she said, suddenly. "I do love you—just as I love brother David. And you have the same feeling for me. We'll keep it that way as long as we live, I hope, Stephen."

"But—" Stephen protested, as earnestly as he could—"we're going to your father and mother come back."

GIVES ADVICE ON GROWING BULBS

South Saanich Farmers Hear Instructive Address—Crop Competition Entries Received

KEATINGE, May 26.—The South Saanich Farmers' Institute held its monthly meeting at the Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road, with W. D. Michell in the chair.

Mr. Van Der Bent addressed the members on the growing of bulbs and tulip blooms. He advised the forming of an association in the Keatinge district, with each grower growing one-quarter of an acre of one variety of tulips. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Van Der Bent for his instructive talk.

A vote of thanks was passed to Reeve Crouch, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, J. B. Munro and Professor E. M. Straight for their support in helping to make the Coronation ceremony a success; also Mr. Pudlow for the flagpole, and H. H. Allen, Saanich engineer, for the cement base.

Entries for the strawberry and loganberry crop competition were received, and judging will take place shortly.

The president, W. D. Michell, spoke on the abatement of the mosquito nuisance, since the municipality drained the marsh at Island View Beach.

The residents of San Juan and Cocos Islands will be the guests of the institute in July or August.

The next meeting will be held at the Experimental Farm, Sidney.
